No Quorum in Congress.

Nothing Done by the Members of the House.

BUT TWO DEMOCRATS PRESENT.

Twelve Republicans Absent, Which Leaves But One Hundred and Fifty-Nine Members and Prevents All Further Legislation—Routine Work in the Senate—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The efforts of the managers of the house to secure a quorum of Republican members in order that the Langston-Venable contested election case could be broken again proved a failure yesterday. Mr. O'Ferrall, of Virginia, and Mr. Smith, of Arizona, were the only Democrats in the hall when the house was called to order. At the conclusion of the prayer the clerk, under direction of the speaker, proceeded to call the roll on the approval of Friday's journal.

The vote resulted: Yeas 153, nays 0—no quorum: and a call of the house was ordered. One hundred and fifty-nine members responded to their names—still no quorum.

The Republican absentees were Messrs. [illegible], Hansbrough, McCormick, T. M. Brown, of Indiana: Butterworth, Caswell, Ewart, Finley, Milliken, Peters, Sweney and Wilson, of Kentucky.

A republican caucus was called to order immediately after the adjournment of the house and lasted nearly two hours. Discussion on the subject of plans for securing the attendance of absent Republicans was general, and Mr. Moore, of New Hampshire, proposed that absentees should be fined $500 each. Severe condemnation of the absent Republicans was indulged in. A count of absentees brought forth promises from a number of members that a sufficient number of the absentees to make a quorum would be present tomorrow.

Some members urged the abandonment of the Langston case, but this action was opposed by most of the leaders and it was determined, without taking a vote, that the case should not be dropped and that adjournment should be postponed until Langston is seated. With this understanding the caucus adjourned, leaving it to the several state delegations to understand the task of securing the attendance of absent colleagues.

The senate, after the transaction of some routine business, resumed consideration of the bill to define and regulate the jurisdiction of United States courts. The bill was discussed up to within a few moments of adjournment, then went over without action. The senate then, after a brief executive session, adjourned.

Two Freight Trains Wrecked.

ALBANY, Sept. 23.—A rear end collision occurred between two eastbound freight trains on the Central road between Schenectady and Hoffman's Ferry early yesterday morning. The debris caught fire and several cars were burned. Only one man, a brakeman, name not known, was injured. He received a severe cut on the head. The loss on rolling stock is about $15,000.

Verdict in the Reading Wreck.

READING, Pa., Sept. 23.—The coroner's jury in the cases of the victims of the Shoemakersville disaster last Friday, rendered a verdict yesterday censuring the flagman of the coal train, who neglected to properly signal the freight train following. This led to the collision, by which the coal cars were thrown on the track in front of the express train.

Foreign Dispatches.

London Police Interfere With a Prize Fight.

THE TWO PRINCIPALS ARRESTED.

McAuliffe and Slavin Arrested by London Police—Their Cases Continued in Court—Other News from the Old World.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—McAuliffe, the American slugger who was to meet Slavin, the Australian, in a fight to a finish at the Ormonde club last night, was arrested yesterday, and shortly afterward Slavin was brought in and locked up.

When McAuliffe and Slavin were arraigned in court, the inspector of police, who made the arrests, justified them by stating that the proposed contest was not to be a mere boxing match, but a genuine prize fight. He produced the articles of agreement, and pointed out that they provided for an unlimited number of rounds with four-ounce gloves. The gloves which were to be used had been on exhibition in the windows of a sporting newspaper establishment, and were evidently smaller than ordinary four-ounce boxing gloves. They were made very thin around the knuckles, and would not hinder severe punishment being inflicted.

The secretary of the Ormonde club deposed that the gloves were the same as those ordinarily used. The affair was to be strictly a boxing contest, governed by Queensbury rules. No breach of the law was intended. The police had been incited in this matter by a jealous rival club.

The inspector rejoined that nobody outside of the police authorities had known that the warrant was issued.

The magistrate directed the police to produce the gloves before he would pass upon the illegality of the contest. Meantime if the prisoners ventured to fight they would be severely dealt with.

The suddenness of the arrests prevented the defendants from obtaining counsel. The legal questions involved will be argued to-day.

McAuliffe's backers declare that Slavin, knowing that he was not in proper training to fight, allowed the time of the proposed contest to become known to the police. It is suspected by many, however, that the Pelican club set the machinery of the law in motion, in revenge for Slavin's refusal to fight in the club's rooms. The postponement of the affair has profoundly disgusted the sporting fraternity.

All the morning papers applaud the arrest of McAuliffe and Slavin, and express a hope that the fight will not be allowed to take place in England.

Involving Newspapers.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—The Hamburger Nachrichten, which is accepted as Prince Bismarck's organ, a few days ago published an article criticizing the manner in which the government dealt with the rumors concerning its attitude toward slavery in East Africa. The North German Gazette, the German organ, replying to the article, says that the government declines to be dictated to by The Nachrichten, and justifies the meeting of such canards at times by straightforward denial instead of by diplomatic shuffling. The Gazette concludes by making an incidental attack upon the persons who inspired the criticism.

Armenians Must Have Redress.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Times Constantinople correspondent dwells upon the sultan's readiness to act properly when, as is seldom known, he is allowed to act for himself. Among other cases that of the exiling of Moussay Bey is instanced. The commission recently appointed to inquire into the trouble in Armenia has been dissolved and a stronger commission appointed. The patriarchate threatens to close up all churches in the empire unless the wrongs of the Armenians are redressed.

CHEAP ALUMINUM.

Has Professor Hirsh, of Chicago, Solved the Difficult Problem?

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The Morning News says that Professor Joseph M. Hirsh, of Chicago, has exhibited to one of its reporters the process by which he is enabled to extract aluminum from clay at a cost of only a few cents per pound, and declares the process is entirely different from any known to the books. The announcement of this discovery was made some time ago, with the result that he was attacked as a fraud.

Since the first announcement of the discovery was made Professor Hirsh has been quietly completing arrangements to begin active operations. He has leased two five-story buildings. He claims to have manufactured 2,000 pounds of aluminum already, and within a few days the works will have a capacity of this amount every week. A reporter called on the chemist Saturday to ask him in regard to certain charges made by a New York mining journal that he had no new process and was infringing on the Hall or Cowles patent, or else exhibiting metal which he had bought in quantities.

"I have solved the problem of extracting the metal from an aqueous solution, said Professor Hirsch, "and the process has been so simplified that it is surprisingly cheap and requires but little labor. Pure kaolin or clay contains 53 per cent. of aluminum. From the clay which I am using I can get 16 2-3 per cent. metal—that is, from two barrels, or 600 pounds, of clay I can get 100 pounds of aluminum. Professor Richards, of Lehigh university, in his new work on aluminum, intimates that the metal cannot be extracted from clay in the manner that I have done it. It will take me only a few minutes to demonstrate to you that my invention is bona fide. I will show you through the works."

After promising not to publish the details of the new methods the reporter was taken to the factory and there was shown the manner in which Professor Hirsch's discovery is operated. Without going into details, it may be said that the process is entirely different from any mentioned in works on chemistry, and is very clearly no infringement of the Cleveland or Pittsburg patents.

"And you still say you can produce the metal for fifteen cents a pound?"

"For much less than that. If I complete my arrangements for cheap power, I can reduce the labor to such small item that the metal will cost only a few cents a pound. Of course the aluminum will be sold at the present market price for a time, as it will be impossible to turn out a big supply all at once. First, the metal will be made up into articles common to Britannia ware. Machines for spinning metal can be produced at once, and by making up this line of goods we will be able to get $8 or $10 a pound.

"Afterward we can turn out greater amounts and will manufacture a variety of articles or sell the metal in bricks or sheets. It will be a long time before the metal will be produced in such quantities as to warrant its use in building houses, cars or vessels, although the inventor of the Thompson patent car has already arranged to construct four sleepers of aluminum for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad."

The Chicago Aluminum company is to be a corporation with $1,000,000 capital stock. William L. Marston, president of the American Building and Investment society, will probably be president, as he is already the principal stockholder next to Professor Hirsh. The four or five men interested in the invention have put $15,000 into the plant and will receive their stock when $100,000 has been invested.

A number of employes of the oil company were caught under a sheet of flame while digging ditches around the big tanks that were filled with oil and six of them were pretty badly burned. MURDERED FOR MONEY.

A Railroad Laborer Choked to Death and Robbed of $800.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Sept. 23.—A laborer named Hefner, employed on the railroad in course of construction from Hartsville to New Hope, Bucks county, while on his way home about 1 o'clock this morning in company with his wife from a visit to his brother's, who keeps a boarding house at Rushvalley, was waylaid and choked to death.

Hefner and his wife were walking on the track when two men confronted them. The woman was told to go home and mind the babies, the men saying they had business with her husband. They pushed her aside and she fled back to Rushvalley and informed her brother-in-law. When they returned Hefner's dead body was found lying on the track. Eight hundred dollars in money contained in a belt worn by the dead man was missing. The murderers escaped.

Long Voyage in a Small Boat.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Advices from Tahiti say that Capt. Henry Peterson, of San Francisco, performed successfully the feat of sailing an eighteen-foot yacht from Esport, Cal., to Tahiti, 4,000 miles on the Pacific, and gained the $500 wager which had already cost one man his life. The yacht was in French register and was owned in Tahiti. The steamer company refused to take her, so she had to be sailed. Capt. Wentworth first tried but he had just passed Golden Gate when a big wave struck the craft and drowned Wentworth. The sailor with him had a narrow escape. Peterson started last June.

Site for the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The South Park commissioners have decided to give the world's fair people the use of Washington park for the great exposition. This action will give the world's fair officials the use of Jackson park, the Midway Plaisance, Washington park, or at least a large portion thereof and the lake front. It is yet uncertain whether or not the latter portion of the site will now be rejected, but it is not believed that it will be.

Arrested for Stealing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Henry Conse, 42 years old, who resides with his family at 212 Grove street, Jersey City, and who was for many years a trusted salesman with William Riker, jewelry manufacturer, of 860 Broadway, was arrested yesterday for stealing property belonging to his employers. He had got away with $6,000 worth of jewelry during the time he had been with the firm. Part of the jewelry has been recovered.

"Don't Care to Eat."

It is with the greatest confidence that Hood's Sarsaparilla is recommended for loss of appetite, indigestion, sick headache and similar troubles. This medicine gently tones the stomach, assists digestion, and makes one "real hungry." Persons in delicate health, after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a few days, find themselves longing for and eating the plainest food with unexpected relish.

Peculiar but true. And Mr. Shultz is not the first or last of whom the same can be said, and other counties have similar cases.

The lively campaign of the year is to be conducted in the Sixteenth district. The republican followers of McKinley propose to make a hot fight for his re-election, and the democrats expect to stay with them and maintain the [illegible] majority for Warwick. It will be a roaring tariff campaign. The republicans will have Sherman, Reed, Boutelle, Horr, Blaine, Grosvenor and Foraker, and the democracy will have speeches from such eminent free traders as Carlisle, Mills, Springer and others. The campaign in the Sixteenth will be well worth watching. There will be nothing but big guns fired on either side.

We reprint a Tiffin dispatch to-day, containing some talk about a Farmers' Alliance candidate for congress for the Eighth district. It doesn't strike us that there is very much in it. If the Farmers' Alliance really intended to make a vigorous campaign, the only way of practical politics would be to join the Prohibitionists who have already made the president of the Ohio Alliance, W. H. Likins, their nominee. It doesn't make much difference what small elements and side issues are added to the campaign, the Eighth district race will be between Foster and Hare, and it will likely be a pretty lively chase [illegible]

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings, which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous sores [illegible] she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of [illegible] became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." [illegible] Naught, N.J.

Save Your Hair

By a timely use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation has no equal as a dressing. It keeps the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, and preserves the color, fullness, and beauty of the hair.

"I was rapidly becoming bald and gray; but after using two or three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair grew thick and glossy and the original color was restored."—Melvin Aldrich, Canaan Centre, N. H.

"Some time ago I lost all my hair in consequence of measles. After due waiting, no new growth appeared. I then used Ayer's Hair Vigor and my hair grew Thick and Strong.

It has apparently come to stay. The Vigor is evidently a great aid to nature."—J. B. Williams, Floresville, Texas.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past four or five years and find it a most satisfactory dressing for the hair. It is all I could desire, being harmless, causing the hair to retain its natural color, and requiring but a small quantity to render the hair easy to arrange."—Mrs. M. A. Bailey, 9 Charles street, Haverhill, Mass.

"I have been using Ayer's Hair Vigor for several years, and believe that it has caused my hair to retain its natural color."—Mrs. H. J. King, Dealer in Dry Goods, &c., Bishopville, Md.

SHE WAS POISONED!

Not by anything she drank or took, but by bad blood. Is it any wonder she feels "blue?" In most cases blues are only another name for bad blood. A man or woman feels unhappy. Life seems dark. The heart is heavy. Bad blood is carrying its poison all over the body, and we call it "blues."

Read these experiences:

Mrs. C. C. Hutchinson, of Pittston, Pa., says: "I consider Dr. Acker's English Blood Elixir the best medicine in the world, not only for blood troubles, but also for dyspepsia, with which I have been afflicted."

"Both my wife and myself firmly believe that Dr. Acker's English Blood Elixir is the best of all blood medicines, and will remove all impurities of the blood."

Geo. V. Stoner, Valley City, Dak.

IN GRAND COUNCIL.

SIXTIETH ANNUAL ASSEMBLY OF ROYAL AND SELECT MASTERS OF OHIO

A Large Number of Delegates to Both Council and Chapter in Attendance—The Council Convenes Today, the Chapter on Wednesday—Delegates in Attendance.

The local reception committees were busy Monday afternoon and Tuesday receiving the arriving delegates to the Sixtieth Annual Assembly of the Grand Council of the Royal and Select Masters of Ohio. Considering that the Council is only a factor in the great Masonic order, and one of the smallest factors numerically, the arrivals were very numerous and consisted wholly of representative men, whom it is an honor to have as guests. With them came the representatives to the Grand Chapter, where the same persons were not delegates to both, and in all there is a large and highly creditable body of Masons present.

For this occasion Marion has put on a holiday attire, decorating in a way that must be gratifying to the visitors. There are some instances of unusual attractiveness, the Masonic and Hotel Marion blocks being profuse in their displays of the society flags, bunting and other floating colors.

For the first time since the court house was erected, the common pleas court room is devoted to outside use and it has become the assembly hall of the grand bodies. Ordinarily it is a handsome chamber, but to its unadorned charm has been added a wealth of decorations that has made it an asylum of unusual beauty. The judge's stand is a perfect bank of flowers and plants, and other parts of the room have been beautified with a profusion of flowers and taste that is admirable.

In the lobbies of Hotel Marion and the Kerr House the presence of the visitors is most notable, and here are the fraternal greetings most informal and of social nature. It is but a step to the court room or Masonic hall from either of the hotels, and the arrangements are thus the most convenient possible.

THE GRAND COUNCIL.

The Grand Council assembled at the court room at 9 a.m. with about sixty delegates present. The grand officers were in their chairs as follows:

A Special Train to Take Visiting Masons About the City at 7:30 Thursday Morning.

On Thursday morning at 7:30, city time, an excursion by rail, with special train, will leave the Erie depot and from there visit the Huber Manufacturing Company's works, the Marion Steam Shovel works, the Marion Malleable Iron works, the Oak Hill Lime works and stone quarries, then returning to Erie depot at 11 a.m.

All representatives to the Grand Council and Grand Chapter and their ladies are cordially invited to participate in the excursion. It will give an opportunity to see a good portion of Marion's industrial development. By order of the

COM. OF ARRANGEMENTS.

QUIETLY MARRIED.

Dr. Emmet Drake Joins the List of Benedicts, Marrying a Nevada Lady.

Dr. Emmet Drake, the dentist, was quietly married to Miss Esther V. Scott, a prominent society belle of Nevada, at 8 o'clock Monday morning. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents in Nevada and was only witnessed by a few of the most intimate relatives. The wedding was not to have taken place for a couple of months, but on Sunday Dr. Drake received a telegram offering him a very desirable position in Portland, Oregon, in consequence of which the nuptial knot was tied. Emmet has practiced dentistry here for some time and has always lived here, and has a host of friends who wish he and his brid the best of success.

Although Dr. Drake's practice here has been all he could wish, he has decided to accept the position offered him at Portland. The Portland parties for which he will manage a dental parlor have been after him for some time, but he never concluded to accept a position with them until this last tempting offer. He leaves for that place tonight and his wife will join him in about two months, and they will make there future home in that city.

An Unwarranted Intrusion.

Sammy had been told that if he would be good he might go into the next room and take a look at his new baby brother.

Sammy promised and was admitted. He stood for some moments looking in silence at the diminutive morsel of humanity and then he freed his mind.

"I don't know what they're going to call you, bub," he said, "but I know I had everything fixed for goin' fishin' today, bait dug an' everything, and now you've come along an' spoiled the whole programme. I call it a dog-on small piece of business. That's what I call it."—Chicago Tribune.

The Wit of a Dude.

"I fear verwy much," said Willie Wishington, "that I am growing wesentful."

"Why?" was the interrogatory.

"I am getting so that I answer back with a quickness that amounts almost to asperity. Miss Belle Pepperton wemahked to me yestehday that it seemed impossible foh me to get anything through my head at times."

"What did you say?"

"I told heh that if such were the case I would certainly have stahved to death long ago."—Washington Post.

Excessive Love.

Rural Child—I wish Aunty Brownstone didn't love us so much.

Mrs. Hayseed—La sakes! what a funny wish! Why?

Rural Child—'Cause I asked her why she didn't take us to the theatres, and parks, and parties, and operas and such places w'en we visited her in th' city, an' she said it was 'cause she loved us so much she was perfectly contented to sit around home with us.—Street & Smith's Good News.

Her Regrets.

Daisy (aged 7)—Mamma, I don't like Kitty Smith, and I don't want to go to her old birthday party. What shall I do?

Mother—Why, send your regrets.

This is what Daisy wrote: "My Dear Kitty—I am very sorry that you are going to have a birthday party. Daisy Jinks."—Lawrence American.

Very Probable.

First Burglar—Say, I made a great haul last night. Got a pile of booty!

Second Ditto—That so? What did you crack?

"A shoe store."—Lawrence American.

A Woman's Idea.

Mrs. Snodgrass—I should think the cinnamon bear would be the easiest to hunt.

Snodgrass—Why?

Mrs. Snodgrass—It would be so easy to follow the scent.—Munsey's Weekly.

Quite So.

The man that thinks that editing a paper is a picnic in dull news weather will soon be trying to bore a hole through a kernel of wheat with a grain drill.—Dansville Breeze.

Very Curious.

"Queer thing about a day."

"What's that?"

"It isn't any good until it breaks."—New York Herald.

Anxious to Know.

Doctor—These pills, Mr. Croaker, will either kill or cure.

Patient—Say, doc, which will they do first?—Judge.

A Startling Prophecy.

Nothing in the future appears more probable than that within the lifetime of persons now living the industrial supremacy of Great Britain will pass away with the exhaustion of her coal fields. Switzerland, Italy and the Scandinavian peninsula are destined to become the great manufacturing districts of Europe. This extraordinary industrial revolution will be brought about by the transmission and distribution by electrical means of the inexhaustible and permanent water power in those countries. More than a year ago in Switzerland a wool manufactory with 36,000 spindles, with the usual complement of auxiliary machinery, was operated wholly by electric power conveyed from a distant stream, deriving its never failing supply of water from the melting of Alpine snows. In the new era the Swiss republic may not improbably become the foremost industrial nation of Europe.—Electrical Engineer.

EIGHTH DISTRICT

Farmer's Alliance Will Probably Have a Candidate.

(Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.)

TIFFIN, O., Sept. 21.—After much conference and deliberation, the Farmers' Alliance of the Eighth district has decided to take independent political action, and on Saturday an official call was issued for the meeting of a convention at Carey, on Thursday, October 2, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for congress. This movement is initiated by the Alliance, but the call includes Knights of Labor, Grangers and all other advocates of independent political action. The whole scheme appears to be engineered in the interest of Hon. John Seitz, of Seneca county, who although originally a Democrat, long since severed his connection with the party and espoused greenbackism and every other chimerical idea that promised him an ephemeral but cheap notoriety. What effect the movement will have upon the political complexion of the Eighth district can not be even intelligently surmised. The Alliance is very strong in the counties composing the district, but what proportion of them are Republicans and what Democrats it is impossible to determine with any degree of accuracy.

Buying Coal for the County.

Penny wise and pound foolish or saving at the spiggot and wasting at the bung, or a short history of the way our county commissioners have excursions at the expense of the county.

The jail and court house are heated by steam, and it takes about twenty cars of coal to make the steam. Inasmuch as there are several coal firms in Marion that are responsible for a small contract and all of them tax payers, it would be natural to suppose that some one of the firms would be given the contract, but instead of giving the contract to Marion dealers or even asking them for bids, two of the commissioners take the train for Akron, at an expense of about twenty-five dollars, and buy the coal of an Akron firm. If they must buy the coal away from Marion it could have been done as cheaply by letter and saved the county the twenty-five dollars, but then you know the commissioners would not have had the pleasure ride to Akron or swell dinners at high toned hotels. If they had used the cheaper way. The coal dealers of Marion sell coal quite as cheap as dealers in adjoining towns. They are all residents of the county and tax payers and if there is a small profit in furnishing the county coal they are entitled to it and not an outsider. A TAX PAYER.

Smallest Street in New York.

The smallest and quaintest street in New York is located on the East Side, within one quarter of a mile of the city hall. It is named Chestnut street. It begins at Madison street just below the junction of Madison with New Chambers, and runs diagonally across New Chambers and New Bowery streets to Oak street. There was a time, before New Chambers street was cut through, when Chestnut street deserved the title of a thoroughfare. It had some utility at that time, and could have been found without the aid of a microscope. But now it has no utility and only one lamppost.

That portion of Chestnut street between Madison and New Chambers is just forty five feet long. It cuts off a flatiron shaped building the walls of which are decorated with announcements of the Soup Greens society and the Swelled Heads Jrs.

Chestnut street starts to cross New Chambers and New Bowery, a distance of about 200 feet, but becomes lost in a maze of street car tracks and Second Avenue Elevated Railroad pillars which traverses New Bowery street. After crossing this wilderness of iron diagonally Chestnut street enters into another fifty feet of existence between New Bowery and Oak street. Here also, it cuts off a flatiron shaped building used as a cigar factory. The only possible utility that this portion of Chestnut street can have is to permit a short cut to the Oak Street Police station.—New York Journal.

Postal Savings Banks.

Postal savings banks are a means by which the government offers through the postoffice a depository for savings. To every citizen of the country, no matter where he may reside provided he is within reach of some postoffice which is a depository, the government extends the opportunity to lay by his savings in small sums, allows interest thereon, and pledges its credit as security for their repayment on demand of the depositor or his representative.

They are not intended to interfere with or be a substitute for existing savings institutions which for the most part deal with much larger sums and are found only in the larger centers of population and chiefly in New England and the Middle Atlantic states, but to extend a privilege similar to that which private institutions afford to the very large class of small wage earners, many of whom live entirely out of reach of such institutions. [illegible] hope that if savings [illegible] where that is saved can be kept [illegible] are [illegible] people they [illegible] that the government [illegible] anything [illegible] and having already [illegible] established all over [illegible] the agent to furnish [illegible] people.—Youth's [illegible]

The Gilbert Opera Co.

(Milwaukee Sentinel.)

Little Duke, that charming comic opera, was presented last night at the Bijou Theatre before a large and appreciative audience, by the Gilbert Opera Co. Miss Sylvester is an animated and altogether graceful and winning little lady. As well as having a pretty face and figure she has a good voice. Miss Tomkins is a clever singer and pleasing actress. Mr. Kane, as Montaland, is much at home in his part, and has a pleasant voice well controlled. Mr. Bert St. John in the comedy part made a decided hit and brought down the house with his topical songs.

The chorus is pretty and well trained and the costumes exceptionally fine. The company made many friends in the city and should they ever return, good houses will be insured.

Board of Trade.

People coming to our Fair should not fail to call at No. 129 north Main street, where can be found a selection of choice liquors, cigars and tobacco, also the best malt liquors produced in the United States. Carling's amber ale imported direct from London, Canada. You can make no mistake as to the place, it is the only Board of Trade in Marion, Ohio. Everything is conducted on strictly business principles.
